

TALI GOLERGANT

Tali Golergant is a 22 year old singer/songwriter, film actor, and musical theater performer from Luxembourg currently based in NYC. Influenced by artists like Lizzy McAlpine, Sara Bareilles, and Lady Gaga, Tali blends pop, indie, and R&B together to create her own unique sound. Her debut single, she wrote when she was 15 years old, has nearly hit 70,000 streams on Spotify. In 2021, she released her debut EP “lose you” which she co-wrote with artist Francis of Delirium. Post-pandemic, she started gigging shows with her own music group in NYC, including venues like RockWood Music Hall, Mercury Lounge, Arlene’s Grocery, and The Delancey. Besides her flourishing pop and songwriter career, she has starred in a short indie film “Agua” that is currently in post production and continued her journey with theater playing roles like Tzeitel from Fiddler on the Roof, Susan Snell in Carrie, and Eponine in Les Miserables.
